

Dear Parents, Guardians, Prospective Parents, and Visitors,

Claims made by anyone associating Eagle Ranch Academy with WWASP (World Wide Association of Specialty Programs) and its affiliated programs, we unequivocally state that Eagle Ranch Academy has never been or will never be affiliated with WWASP or any of its programs.

The false assertion that Eagle Ranch Academy is merely a "rebranding" of a WWASP program stems solely from the fact that Eagle Ranch Academy currently occupies the exact physical location where a WWASP program had operated over thirty (30) years ago. It is false and misleading to link Eagle Ranch Academy with WWASP because we shared the same address at one point.

Just as the previous occupants of your home do not define you, our program is not defined by the program that occupied the same physical space 30 years ago. Before Eagle Ranch Academy acquired the property, the State of Utah utilized this location for an Adult Drug and Alcohol Treatment program and at least two other programs, none affiliated with WWASP.

We understand the distress caused by negative experiences in schools or treatment facilities, and we empathize with individuals who have endured emotional harm. However, it's crucial to recognize that our mission and approach are fundamentally different. At Eagle Ranch Academy, we are committed to providing a safe, supportive, and therapeutic environment for teenagers and their families.

While many of the "so-called experts" admit they do not know the solution to the issues faced by troubled youth and their families, the fact remains that there are teens in this world who need help and parents who struggle to help them. We firmly believe that Eagle Ranch Academy is part of the solution.

Our therapeutic model is founded on principles of choice and empowerment. We believe in treating teenagers with dignity and respect, providing them with the tools and support to make positive choices, unlike WWASP and similar programs criticized for their behavior modification and militant tactics.

Our therapeutic model is designed to foster personal growth, accountability, and self-discovery. We are proud to be pioneers of the Choice-Based Model, which has empowered countless teens and families to enact positive, lasting changes in their lives, leading to improved relationships and overall well-being.

We continuously strive for improvement and are committed to staying abreast of best practices in adolescent treatment. We offer a comprehensive array of therapeutic, educational, and family support services to assist teens and families in building brighter futures.

Thank you for visiting our website. We hope this statement clarifies our position and underscores our unwavering commitment to helping teens and families thrive.
